

Curriculum Vitae

Maria Leonor García da Cruz: Professor and Researcher at FLUL / School of Arts and Humanities of the University of Lisbon in Early Modern History and European overseas Expansion, supervising master thesis, PhD. and postdoctoral dissertations in societies, mindsets, institutions, political and financial management, representations. Member of the History Centre of FLUL, she supervises research projects in IMAGETICS / interdisciplinary studies on representations and identitarian constructions, and TREASURY / history of economic thought and management, social networks, politics and ethics.