

SHORT CV

Dr. Carlos J. L. BALSAS, AICP is a Teaching Fellow at the Belfast School of Architecture and the Built Environment, Ulster University. He has extensive practice of urban revitalization in international settings. His background and training in planning and policy evaluation studies has been utilized to research socio-economic transformations, public policy creation and implementation, governance mechanisms, and network assessment. He is interested in understanding the reasons, motivations and opportunities leading to the creation and implementation of more sustainable urbanism developments. He is the author of the multi-award-winning book Walkable Cities Revitalization Vibrancy and Sustainable Consumption (SUNY Press, 2019).