

SHORT CV

Julia REY-PÉREZ is PhD Architect and Associate Professor at the Department of Architectural History, Theory and Composition, lecturing at the University of Seville (USE) since 2015. Her research focuses on the role of heritage and culture in the sustainable development of historic and contemporary cities, and in particular she works on the identification of sustainable urban strategies to be inserted in local policies. She was the responsible for the Historic Urban Landscape Program in the Management Plan for Heritage Municipal Buildings of Seville (2019-2021). She is a USE research member of UNESCO's Chair CREhAR and the Erasmus + project HERSUS and since 2016, she has lectured at the Master of Sustainable City and Architecture (USE) and at the Master in Anthropology: Management of Cultural Diversity, Heritage and Development. Member of the research group HUM-666: "City, Architecture and Contemporary Heritage" of the University of Seville.