

SHORT CV

Ljiljana ČAVIĆ is an architect and an assistant professor at the Lisbon School of Architecture. She took her master's degree from Faculty of Architecture – the University of Belgrade, Serbia (2007) and her doctoral degree from the Lisbon School of Architecture – the University of Lisbon, Portugal (2018).. Since 2014 she is an associated member of CIAUD (O Centro de investigação em Arquitetura, Urbanismo e Design) and DCG (Design and Computation Group) at Faculty of Architecture UL where she also teaches Project design. She is one of the authors of Solid and Convex Voids - analytic and representational method intended for investigation of unbuilt part of urban-architectural spaces. She participated in various national and international conferences and workshops and her writtenworks have been published in several peer-reviewed journals and books.