

SHORT CV

María Aguilar Alejandro is an architect from the Higher Technical School of Architecture of Seville and also a PhD from the University of Seville since 2015. Her beginnings as a researcher arose in the field of interdisciplinary studies in architecture, design and art. To this day, she maintains this line of research as well as her specialization in the field of graphic design and product design, a task that she performs as Assistant Professor of the Department of Design Engineering of the Higher Polytechnic School of Seville.

She has carried out four international research fellowships in the following centers: Cultural Center of Spain and National Institute of Anthropology and History in Mexico (Mexico City, Mexico, 3 months), School of Architecture and Design of the Pontifical Catholic University of Valparaíso (Valparaíso, Chile, 1 month), Architectural Association (London, United Kingdom, 1 month) and at the LIFAM of l'École Supérieure d'Architecture de Montpellier (Montpellier, France).