

SHORT CV

Raffaella MADDALUNO

She received her Architecture degree from Polytechnic University of Bari.

She holds a PhD in History of Architecture in the Course of Architecture and Construction from the University of Rome Tor Vergata.

She holds a Second-level short specialization degree in CONSERVATION, MANAGEMENT AND ENHANCEMENT OF INDUSTRIAL HERITAGE from the University of Padua. Scholarship for a post-doc of the Calouste Gulbenkian Foundation in Lisbon, with a research topic on "Fernando Távora: the 1960 Gulbenkian Journey" and on "The milling factories in Portugal: the wheat, flour and pasta routes in the transition to modernity (1860-1930)". Integrate member of the CIAUD (Centro de Investigação de Arquitetura Urbanism and Design) with two research projects, on issues related to the architectural journeys of the Portuguese Architects as a tool for the experience and transmission of the discipline, and on the milling heritage of the Portuguese factories. Collaborating member of CITAD (Centro de Investigação Território, Arquitetura, Design).

Assistant Professor of the Faculty of Architecture of the University of Lisbon where she currently teaches History of architecture in the Modern Era and History of Contemporary Art.