SHORT CURRICULAR NOTE

Jakob DAHLBACKA (Doctor of Theology) is project researcher at the department of Church history at Åbo Akademi University in Turku, Finland. His research has dealt primarily with questions pertaining to religious uses of history, cultural memory and the spatial and material aspects of memory. Another topic of interest is Finnish revivalist history, from a combined church historical and contemporary historical perspective. In this respect, focus is on the so-called Ostrobothnian Bible Belt and its characteristics.